U. S. SCORES NEW LEWIS WAGE MOVE

Challenges Right To Reopen Contract but Agrees To Negotiate.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—The government today challenged John L. Lewis' right to reopen the wage contract for soft coal miners but offered to discuss arbitration of his new demands.

Navy Capt. N. H. Collison, coal mines administrator, said that terms of the agreement between the United Mine Workers chief and Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug ending a 59-day strike last spring were to remain in force for the duration of government operation of the mines.

Lewis, raising the threat of new shutdown in the coal fields, last night charged the government with breach of that contract and demanded that negotiations for new one begin by Nov. 1.

Replying to Lewis' demands in a letter, Collison expressed willingness to meet with the UMW leader at any time to discuss terms of the present contract. But, he said, he was unable to treat the notice as requiring "a joint conference for the purpose of negotiating new arrangements affecting wages and other matters."

Lewis had mentioned "significant changes" in government wage policy, but Collisson replied that "such changes, if any, provide no contractual basis requiring negotiations for a revision of the Krug-Lewis agreement."

Krug, now travelling in the West, told Lewis earlier that he would meet him in California if he wants to discuss a new contract by Nov. 1.

Lewis new challenge, ending nearly six months of comparative silence, could mean a walkout of the nations 400,000 soft-coal miners by Nov. 20—on the icy edge of winter.

Unleashing his attack with sudden fury, the United Mine Workers' union boss accused the government of contract breaches resulting in "the loss of millions of dollars due to the mine workers."

In a letter to Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug yesterday, Lewis demanded that negotiations for a completely new contract begin by Nov. 1, and coupled with it a threat to tear up the existing contract in 30 days.

Krug, now traveling in the southwest, today invited Lewis to meet him in California if he wants to discuss a new soft coal mining contract by Nov. 1.

"On that date," Krug told Lewis in a communication made available at the interior department, "I will be at Tule Lake, California, discussing our program for veterans settlement, but I will find a way of arranging a time for our meeting if you want to meet me there.

"However, if it should better meet your convenience I will see you in Washington directly after my last publicly announced address on Nov. 6 to the Town Hall in Los Angeles, which ends my committed western inspection trip.

"Will you please let my office know what arrangement will suit you best."

Krug, reached at Amarillo, Tex., during an inspection trip, expressed shock at Lewis' assertions.

Denies Contract Breach

"The government has not breached its contract with the United Mine Workers," he declared.

"I have already suggested to Mr. Lewis arbitration on these (disputed) points. * * *.

"The government's contract with the United Mine Workers covers wages, hours and working conditions during the period of government operation. It does not provide for reopening of the contract to revise wages or hours."

Krug disclosed that he and Lewis had a heated discussion in his office last Saturday morning. He also asserted that in his opinion some of the wildcat coal strikes constituted a breach of contract on the part of the miners.

"The government of the United States lives up to its contracts," he said, and added:

"Will Discuss Matters"

"I shall, of course, be willing to discuss at any time any matters arising under the contract with the United Mine Workers which the United States of America has made with Mr. Lewis."

Krug voiced confidence that the pact "will stand for the period of government operation" of the soft-coal mines. He was not certain whether he would return to Washington by Nov. 1, as requested by Lewis. His trip is scheduled to continue through Nov. 4.

Definite Buyer Resistance To Spurting Meat Costs Reported

By The Associated Press

The growth of definite buyer resistance to meat prices that have spurted to an extreme of $1.50 a pound was shown today in a heavy majority of the key cities covered in a nation-blanketing survey.

At the end of the first full week of uncontrolled meat prices, a spot check of 48 cities by The Associated Press produced a scoreboard that read like this:

Red meat has comeback in

HOME AND HUNGRY. A Japanese youngster, hungry after his long trip from Russian-controlled Manchuria, munches an apple supplied by the Japanese Red Cross on his arrival in Tokyo. He was in the first group of Japanese to be repatriated by the Russians.

sharply improved to ample quantities on the counters of 39 communities; in nine others—six of them in the east—meat is still scarce to non-existant.

Prices have risen everywhere, in a few cases by as little or even less than the federal subsidy that vanished with OPA control, but in one-third of the 48 cities prices of $1 a pound or more have been chalked up for choice cuts.

Resistance to these prices has appeared in degrees ranging from beyond the muttering stage to active organized picketing in 34 of the survey cities; in others the plaint has risen that citizens had nothing to resist.

Resistance Effective

In at least 10 cities this resistance has either been effective in chopping down the topmost prices, or has given promise of doing so within a few days.

While meat has come out of hiding, several other key living scarcities have remained as hard to find for the most part as they been for many weeks. In 25 of the reporting communities sugar was listed as scarce to entirely unobtainable—with Philadelphia high among them despite 70,000,000 pounds aboard ships held off her wharves by the maritime strike.

In 43 of the 48 cities both soap and shortening were markedly scarce and in 39 of them toilet tissue was anything but readily obtainable.

There were plenty of unusual twists in an odd picture presented today to American housewives.

Picketing In Omaha

In Omaha, Neb., a number of meat markets have been picketed by members of the League of Women Shoppers bearing signs urging prospective buyers not to pay "outrageous" prices. Spokesman said the picketing was directed ultimately at packers, to get them to reduce prices to retailers. Prices already have come down.

New York City and St. Louis provided two other instances where prices have dropped under sharp refusal by housewives to buy. Good porterhouse steak dropped from $1.25 a pound to 95 cents in New York, and in St. Louis it went down from $1.10 to 98 cents and failed to sell at that price.

As a sidelight, butter prices have been driven down in three cities by the same tactics. In Charlotte, N. C., butter dropped from $1.00 to 85 cents, in Omaha 95 to 82 cents and in Helena, Mont., from $1.00 to 90 cents because of a telephone campaign by housewives, threatening a buyers strike.

Retailers Refuse Goods

Nor was the buyers resistance all on the part of housewives. In nine cities retailers have either refused to buy, cautioned their customers against it, or have promised to cooperate to bring prices down.

In Cheyenne, Wyo., when wholesale meat prices virtually tripled, retailers voluntarily cut their profit. Even so about 40 per cent of the housewives were aloof from buying or bought but little in protest. Several Detroit retailers urged their customers not to buy more than their barest needs as an ultimate price corrective. In western New York state dealers themselves were advised to buy only what they could sell quickly. A slaughterer's group and independent retailers in Newark, N. J., both called on buyers to resist.

U. S. INTERVENTION IN TWA STRIKE TIPPED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—The White House said today the national mediation board is considering possible intervention in the two-day-old strike of pilots which has halted Trans World Airline flights at home and abroad.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross emphasized at a news conference that the White House itself has not entered into the wage dispute, but simply has been advised that the board is studying the case. He added that he did not know what that agency might do.

At the same time, he said government seizure of the world-wide TWA system has not been discussed.

Otherwise, there was no sign of a break in the deadlock over the pay increase demands of the AFL pilots who now earn about $1,000 monthly.

TWA officials took over the controls of a special plane to fly United Nations delegates and officials from Paris to New York for the UN assembly tomorrow. But aside from that, all TWA skymasters and Constellations were parked at airports.

Thirty-three were aboard the special plane flown by Larry Trimble, TWA assistant superintendent of flying in Europe, and Stanley Stanton, assistant technical manager. Approximately 100 other New York-bound passengers were stranded at Paris, Rome and Shannon after pilots left planes there.

Neither side showed any inclination to budge from its stand and there were indications that the government might have to step into the controversy.

Differing versions of the AFL union's pay demands range from a top union estimate of $1,187, a month, plus an undisclosed bonus for ocean flying ,to a company

Livestock Receipts Hit 2-Year Peak at Marion Stockyards

Auction receipts at the Marion Union Stockyards sale yesterday climbed to their highest level in two years, according to a report from the stockyards today.

Total receipts yesterday, the first sale the stockyards has held since price ceilings on livestock were removed last Tuesday, were 3,168, with hogs and sheep making up the bulk of animals sold.

Yesterday's total receipts were 1,569 above those of Monday a week ago, when 1,599 animals were sold.

Hog Receipts Up

Big difference in yesterday's receipts was due to 1,012 hogs which poured into the local yards, compared to 112 sold the previous week. The stockyards ran out of both rail cars and trucks and estimated it could have handled 700 more hogs had transportation facilities been available.

Livestock officials estimated cash receipts from yesterday's sale would total over $100,000, with more than 25 loads of livestock, hauled in tractor-trailer units and in rail cars leaving the Marion yards for eastern markets.

Hog prices were $2 above last week's figures, with choice animals selling for as much as $24.25. Prices on lambs and sheep generally were under prices of last week with top grade animals bringing $20.85. Sheep and lamb receipts yesterday totaled 1,680. Cattle prices were steady with good steers and heifers bringing top prices of from $20 to $28.50. Cows generally sold higher than last week, officials said.

More Meat In Stores

The influx of cattle, hogs and calves into Ohio markets following removal of meat ceilings is beginning to refill the shelves of Marion butcher shops.

Most meat dealers indicated today their meat supplies were "much improved." Some said they were getting all the fresh pork, beef and veal they could handle, while others maintained some meat products were still difficult to obtain. Meat prices in some stores were reported to be dropping slightly. One store reported its prices on some cuts were lower than they were when the ceilings were on, but the majority of Alger and Dola Women Killed When Car Crashes Into Disabled Truck.

Special to The Star

KENTON, Oct. 22—Two Hardin county women were dead today following an automobile accident late last night on route 81 two miles west of Dola.

The dead were Mrs. Ivy Hamlin of Dola, who died enroute to Antonio hospital here, and her sister, Mrs. Esther Irwin of Alger, who died at 1:10 a. m. today in Antonio hospital.

Treated at the hospital and later dismissed were Mrs. Irwin's husband, Dean, driver of the car, and their 16-month-old daughter, Nancy. Mr. Irwin was treated for cuts and lacerations and his daughter for shock.

The accident occured, according to state highway patrolmen, when a truck, driven by Oscar Gonzolez, 20, of Dola, had been parked on the highway after developing engine trouble. The Irwin car was traveling west, the same direction the truck was headed, and sideswiped the parked vehicle. The Irwin car was demolished, patrolmen said.

Gonzolez is being held in Kenton city jail, charged by the patrol with having fictitious license plates on his truck. His bond is set at $1,000 pending his hearing in the Kenton mayor's court Oct. 28.

Dr. John Mooney, Hardin county coroner, gave a verdict of accidental death in the deaths of both women.

Mrs. Hamlin is in the Kieper funeral home at Dunkirk where funeral arrangements are incomplete pending the arrival of her husband from Jackson, Mich., where he went Monday to obtain employment.

Mrs. Irwin was taken to the Preston funeral home in Ada where funeral arrangements are being made. Both women were taken to Antonio hospital in the Kieper ambulance.

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 22—Kenny Harvath, fullback and leading scorer of the Mansfield High school football team, suffered a broken leg in practice last night. Harvath had scored 11 touchdowns for the Tygers and gained 571 yards in 94 carries.

Coach Paul Snyder said sophomore Harry Osburn would be used at fullback against Canton Timken Friday night.

COLUMBUS DEBATES NEW CAR COMPANY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct 22 — Mayor James A. Rhodes framed a request to the city attorney today for an opinion on the legality of negotiating "with another company for the furnishing of mass transportation on the city streets" in an effort to settle the capital's 22-day-old transit strike.

The move agreed upon last night by the mayor with city councilmen followed the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.'s rejection of recommendations made by a five-man citizens' committee for settlement of the dispute with the striking CIO Transport Workers union.

The union accepted the committee's recommendations which included a 14-cent-an-hour wage increase. The company termed the proposal "excessive" and said it was attempting to "prevent further inroads of Communism in Columbus." John B. Poston, company president, asserted that out-of-town representatives of the union had stated they sought "to revolutionize the transit industry in America and Columbus has been selected as the starting point."

The mayor said that City Attorney Richard W. Gordon would be asked to have an opinion ready for a special meeting of city council called for 4 p. m., today to consider the citizens' committee report and the transit company's rejection of the proposed settlement.

Kickoff Dinner Starts Drive Teams On Way

Port Clinton Judge Calls Foundation Best Insurance for Good Community; Campaign Ends Oct. 31.

Workers in the city and county campaign to raise $67,190 to finance the work of agencies making up the Marion Community Foundation, Inc. in 1947, took to the field today, following a kick-off meeting last night in Wesley Methodist church where Judge William A. Hunt of Port Clinton, judge of the common pleas court of Ottawa county was the speaker.

The part a community can take in solving the problems of today and the future through the support of its character building organizations and the agencies looking to the care and assisting its less fortunate citizens was "laid on the line" in a "straight from the shoulder" talk by Judge Hunt. E. L. Cleveland, president of the foundation, presided and the various group leaders were presented by J. J. Stafford, campaign chairman.

The campaign is scheduled to close Oct. 31 and only two report meetings are set, the first to be held next Thursday night when the workers will make their first reports and the final meeting on Oct. 31. Both meetings are to be at 6:30 o'clock and will be held at the Masonic temple.

Judge Hunt placed juvenile delinquency first in the community problems of today, and, after designating the solution of the problem as a community obligation, put the question "how is Marion going to take hold of the juvenile delinquency problem?" He described the work of the agencies composing the Community Foundation as "insurance" for a community and asked, "who would want a community without any one of them?" "These agencies," he said, "have been built by Marion and as such are worthy of support." He compared the eight agencies supported by the Community Foundation to the fingers of the hands in their far reaching work in character building, assistance to humanity and community betterment. They also can double up and become a fist with power to fight juvenile delinquency and other harms besetting the youth and homes of today, he declared.

Preferring the word "enlistment" rather than "drive" Judge Hunt challenged the workers to enter the campaign with the spirit of "I want to do it," and thereby spell success. Otherwise, he added, "your efforts are doomed to failure." Pointing out that we are living in an age of uncertainty, these are the things, he said, that help put a community on solid ground. "It is a pleasure to work and a pleasure to give."

Taking a cue from the "kick-off" meeting, Mr. Cleveland compared the campaign to a football game, citing as the only difference, that in the campaign "everybody carries the ball and there will be no one on the bench." Calling attention to the thermometer which has been placed on the courthouse to register the spirit of the community, he added he "wants to see the spirit go up." He emphasized the fact the campaign is scheduled to end Oct. 31 and expressed confidence that the job can be done and done successfully. This is a time, he stated, to take inventory of ourselves, "are we willing to contribute to our community life?"

Need Increases

The need for the community support of the agencies comprising the foundation is increasing with the conditions of the times, Mr. Stafford pointed out in his talk prior to introducing the group leaders. He called attention to the increase in broken homes and the need for providing a curb to juvenile delinquency. "It is not good for a community to fail in its obligations," he said.

SHIPPING UNION SIGNS TRUCE

Marine Engineers Settle; Deck Officers' Walkout Goes On.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—CIO Marine Engineers and East and Gulf coast ship operators today signed a contract to settle their 22-day old maritime walkout but the strike of deck officers and licensed ship personnel continued to bottle up virtually all American shipping.

Signing of the contract between the ship operators and the Marine Engineers Beneficial association was announced by U. S. Conciliator Frederick Livingston after 13 and one-half hours of negotiations.

But before the shipping tieup on the East and Gulf coasts comes to an end the pact must be ratified by both the union membership and the 44 shipping companies and representatives of agents and operators.

Terms also must be agreed upon between the operators and the other union out on strike, the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots, who adjourned a long negotiating session to 3:30 p. m. today.

The engineers sought a 35 per cent pay raise, which would result in the following monthly wage changes on a class C liberty ship: chief engineer, $499 to $673; first assistant, $314 to $424; second assistant, $275 to $371; third assistant, $252 to $340.

For masters and mates, who seek a 30 per cent increase and a closed shop, the pay changes on the same class ship would be: captain, from $535 to $695 per month; chief mate, $314 to $408; second mate, $275 to $357; third mate, $252 to $328.

Settlement with East and Gulf coast operators would leave the West Coast still strikebound, however, and union negotiations with west coast shipping interests will follow the conclusion of talks here.

E. P. Trainer, chairman of the Marine Engineers negotiation committee, who signed the contract for the union, said he would recommend to the general membership that they ratify the agreement.

Lawrence Kammet, MEBA publicity representative, said the general shipping tieup would not be ended by the agreement, since the AFL organization still was negotiating for a settlement, and the engineers would continue to respect MMP picket lines.

Terms of the contract were withheld by Trainer and Frank

Last-Minute Meetings Prepare for Assembly Opening Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—Diplomats from over the world called their staffs and advisers into last-minute conferences today to shape the policies they will present in the meetings of the general assembly of the United Nations which open tomorrow in Flushing Meadow park with President Truman as the welcoming speaker.

Most delegations already were settled in overcrowded New York hotels, but late-comers still were arriving by air from far parts of the globe. Among those due to arrive today were two prospective antagonists—Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, prime minister and foreign minister of the Union of South Africa, and Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit of India. Her plane trip was delayed by engine trouble at Algiers and then by the TWA pilots' strike in Shannon, Eire, where she changed planes.

Prepares Assembly Fight

Although some negotiations were reported in the wrangles between India and South Africa, Mrs. Pandit—only woman delegation chief—was prepared to carry on a fight in the assembly against "Jim Crow" conditions allegedly imposed upon Indians in South Africa. She is the sister of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, chief minister in India's new interim government.

The Indian delegation also has organized a campaign which may be sprung to oppose South Afri-

BRITON BACKS BYRNES' STAND ON NEW REICH

Opens House Debate Stressing Importance of Big 4 Accord.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 22 — Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today that "we must either have the Potsdam agreement observed as a whole and in the order of those decisions or we must have a new agreement."

Opening a two-day debate in the house of commons on foreign policy, Bevin declared that an "agreement on Germany is at once the touchstone of the relations among the four powers and our opportunity to build a lasting peace and security for the world."

He expressed "almost complete agreement" with U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes' pronouncements on the future of Germany in his Stuttgart speech and added that, "equally, we welcome Marshal Stalin's statement."

Opposes Russ Demands

Bevin opposed Russian demands on Turkey for the Dardanelles. He declared "we will not desert Greece" and said "we wish to see Persia (Iran) * * * free from foreign interference."

He said Great Britain had no military interest nor "any narrow national interest" in Trieste, where he said British interest "is purely one of international trade." He expressed hope that British troops could be withdrawn from both Trieste and Greece.

Voicing British desires about Germany, Bevin told the packed house:

"We wish to see established first political conditions which will secure the world against any German reversion to dictatorship or any revival of German aggressive policy."

Commenting on the economic future of Germany, he warned that Britain was not prepared to carry out parts of the Potsdam agreement "unfavorable to us" while other parts were left unfulfilled.

German Industry Important

"It is our considered view," he said, "that German industry has a most important part to play in the whole of European economy and it is not our intention that it should be further crippled, except insofar as it might endanger security."

Bevin said the Paris peace conference presented a trend toward an East-West division of the world which "must, and I am sure, can be prevented."

"If we are to achieve a lasting peace and economic recovery, all the forthcoming (United Nations and foreign ministers' council) meetings in New York must have a readiness to recognize the legitimate interests of others and to subordinate national interest to the common good."

He said he was "not unhopeful" of lasting amity among the major powers.

Praises Gen. Marshall

Bevin said the United States "took a great step" in sending Gen. George C. Marshall, former U. S. army chief of staff, to help heal internal strife in China, adding:

"Up to the moment, this step has not been successful, but it is certainly not the fault of Gen. Marshall."

In many respects, his speech stuck to British positions which have been at odds with those of Russia. But he said that, despite differences, "I am not unhopeful that, as we proceed, understanding will come."

Russian demands for bases on the Dardanelles would involve, if granted, an "unwarranted interference with the sovereignty of Turkey," the foreign secretary said. He asked that any further discussions "take place at an international conference for that purpose."

What one town found out about

Juvenile Delinquency

This wasn't a crowded city or a factory town. It was a quiet country town that had never had any juvenile crime problem. That is, it didn't have UNTIL (because of the war) . . .

The Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, and the Community House shut down. The folks who ran them had gone to fight or into war work.

Then a series of crimes broke out. They were traced to children of "good" families. Investigation showed "there was just no place for the kids to go for wholesome recreation."

Says LIFE MAGAZINE: "Experience shows that delinquency goes UP when recreational facilities go down."

Well, the youth-serving facilities won't go down in our town if you'll dig down to support our Red Feather services when the Community Chest volunteer worker calls for your contribution.

Give . . . for the kids. Give . . . for our town. Give . . . because your heart will feel better.

Give . . . because you're wise enough to want our youngsters to grow into citizens you can be proud of.

The good your Community Chest Dollars do!
Parents know that Jimmy is busy, absorbed and happy when he's at the Community Center—and best of all, he's with a mighty good gang!
Teen-agers of Scouts, Camp Fire and the "Y" learn lessons of leadership and service as aides in community day nurseries or playgrounds.
The expert and loving care he'll get from visiting nurses gives them a fair, clean start on the path of sturdy, healthy childhood.
There's love in this picture, and security and happiness. Family services give thousands a better chance at the great American heritage.

Everybody gives . . . Everybody benefits

P. Applegett, bingo.

Mr. Hale spoke on the "Presidency of the United States." He explained the powers which the president has and showed a number of cartoon of presidents which wer epublished in various magazines and newspapers. Some of these dated back as far as 1939.

In describing the average president, Mr. Hale named the following things: he was of common stock; English descent; religious; height of five feet, 10 inches; weight of 170 pounds; age at time of inauguration, 55½; married at the age of 28; average president; had four children; and was well educated, according to their days.

Mr. Hale told of the founding of the office of president, and of the different ideas concerning that office. When the office of president was first established, the winner in the election became the president, and the loser, the vice president, he said. In 1804, when the Culp amendment was established, the president and vice president were elected separately, as today.

In the late 1800, two women ran for the office of president, Mr. Hale stated. They were Victor Woodhall of Ohio and Bellevue Lakewood. He also explained that the president of the United States cannot be arrested for any crime during the time he is serving in the office of president.

Guests were Roy Neuer and Frank Hourigan, both of Los Angeles, Calif.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Common Parasite

Infestation with head lice is particularly common among children, who pick up these parasites accidentally during contact with chance playmates or at school. There is no disgrace in this—the disgrace consists in allowing the condition to persist. Hence, no parent whose child has acquired head lice should hesitate because of shame, about going to the doctor for aid. The more quickly the doctor's advice is sought, the more sure results will be.

Head lice are tiny parasites which cling to the hair and, thus hidden, are not always visible to the eye. They lay eggs called nits and these become firmly fastened to the hairs so that while it is often easy enough to get rid of the lice, the nits cannot be dealt with until after they hatch into a new crop of parasites.

Numerous methods of treating head lice have been developed. The treatment used for a long time consisted in using kerosene, which was left on for about 24 hours followed by shampoo and fine combing the hair to get rid of as many nits as possible. Of late DDT has been employed. Usually a special DDT powder is rubbed into the hair and left on for several days in order that when the nits hatch the new parasites will also be destroyed.

Another form of treatment which has been found excellent is the use of an emulsion of benzyl benzoate. In carrying out this treatment the hair is carefully shampooed to get rid of all oil and dirt. After the hair is dry, with the child sitting in a chair with his head tilted backward, the neck and shoulders covered with a towel, and the eyes covered with pieces of cotton, the solution is applied to the hair and scalp with a large piece of cotton which has been dipped into it. After application the hair is combed in the usual fashion. Twenty-four hours later the hair is again carefully shampooed and after being allowed to dry is fine-combed and brushed thoroughly.

It would appear that this treatment is simple to carry out and is safe. It rarely causes any except minor reactions such as some slight irritation of the scalp.

If the child is infested with head lice, the physician should be consulted as to which of these various forms of treatment may best be employed.

SHAVE DELAYS COURT

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Oct. 22—A long shave kept three judges waiting here before they could sentence James J. Bickett, 50, to life imprisonment. Charged with the April 17 slaying of his 20-year-old stepdaughter in suburban Cuyahoga Falls, Bickett refused to appear in court until he shaved. The Summit county judges waited without complaint, then passed the mandatory sentence.

REV. J. R. WYND

PROSPECT MINISTER GOES TO ZANESVILLE

Rev. J. R. Wynd Transferred to New Church.

A change in pastors was announced officially from the pulpit of the Methodist church at Prospect Sunday by Rev. J. R. Wynd who has served the congregation there the last five and a half years. Rev. Wynd has been appointed to the pastorate of the Euclid Avenue Methodist church in Zanesville by Bishop H. Lester Smith of the Ohio conference. His new church has a membership of approximately 600.

Rev. Wynd will be succeeded at Prospect by Rev. Ralph W. Knopp who has been pastor of the Mt. Healthy Methodist church in Cincinnati the last 12 years. The change will become effective Sunday, Nov. 17.

Rev. Wynd was appointed pastor of the Zanesville church to fill a vacancy left by the death of Rev. Charles R. Busch. In his new work he will be in the district supervised by Dr. S. M. Ingmire, former pastor of Epworth Methodist church, Marion, who was appointed superintendent of the Zanesville district in May by Bishop Smith at a session of the annual conference in Toledo.

In the ministry since 1909 when he came to this country from his native England, Rev. Wynd has, besides his pastoral duties, been engaged as speaker by various organizations for civic, social, club, P.-T. A., farmers Institute and other meetings, and school commencements. He is creator of a radio broadcast, "The Rambler," a "program of friendly philosophy and cheer," heard on station WMRN more than four years.

Having left England at the of 26, he returned there in 1918 as a director of Y.M.C.A. work from this country, and served also in France. In 1929 and in 1937 he was director for Boy Scout delegations from Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia attending world jamborees in England and Holland during those years. He is a Scottish Rite thirty-second degree Mason.

His family includes three sons and two daughters. Robert was a lieutenant in the Pacific area with a destroyer escort during the war, and James, also in service as a chemical engineer, was present at Bikini atoll during the atom bomb test there. The middle son, Richard, was employed at Curtiss-Wright aircraft plant in Columbus during the war and he and a daughter, Carolyn, are now in Columbus. A younger daughter, Marjorie, was graduated from Prospect High school this year and plans to enter nurse's training at Christ hospital in Cincinnati. Rev. and Mrs. Wynd will move to Zanesville in the near future.

THERE should be coal this winter for everyone. But due to shortages of coal carrying equipment and labor, it's going to take some careful planning on the part of your dealer to have the coal for you when you need it.

You can help him in that planning—and, of course, help yourself, too—by doing these things:

1. Tell your dealer your total heating requirements.
2. Don't let your coal bin get too low.

Even if your dealer has coal on hand he may not be able to deliver it to you on a moment's notice. So while your bin is still partially filled call him so he can schedule delivery before you're all out.

When you buy coal from your local dealer, you are buying a quality produce. Bringing coal to warm your homes and power your industries is one more example of how the Erie Railroad serves your community well.

BUCYRUS, Oct. 22—The Deutsche Gesellschaft, for the last 72 years a German organization here to aid German immigrants has dissolved, sold its holdings, which included a three-story downtown building, and divided the proceeds among the remaining membership of 81.

The organization was founded by John Schieber, F. A. Thumm, Charles F. Weis, F. Westhold, George Dornemann Jr., George Muder, David Stanley and Charles Metzger on March 25, 1874.

Purpose of the organization was to greet German immigrants who settled in Bucyrus, help them learn the English language and provide entertainment for them by holding social events such as dances and picnics.

At one time the organization had 208 members.

Membership dues depended upon age ranging from $4 to $7 and $1 a week was paid to members in sickness.

When became ill and unable to work, originally $5 a week was considered good pay for members and the organization further stashed it by paying $4 Funeral benefits of around $200 also were paid and at each funeral, the organization partook with a meal and, but this practice was discontinued years ago.

Hope for Better Times Brightens UN Meeting

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The United Nations general assembly is meeting in New York Wednesday in an atmosphere of hope for better times.

We have the emphatic assurance of the assembly president, Paul Henri-Spaak of Belgium, that the conference "will be a great success—absolutely!" And from V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister and head of the Soviet delegation, comes the statement that he is sure "important tasks" now before the United Nations can be successfully solved and that any difficulties can be overcome, given good will and the real desire to achieve mutual understanding.

Dewitt Mackenzie

Molotov pledged that the Russian delegation "will contribute to ensuring that the work of the United Nations general assembly and the council of foreign ministers is successful and is accomplished in the interests of strengthening peace and the well-being of peoples, great and small."

The greatest success which the United Nations could achieve at this juncture would be to inspire a spirit of international cooperation and reciprocity that would help remove the grave differences existing between the Soviet bloc and the Western allies. That's a subject which isn't likely to appear on the agenda, but one would expect it to be pursued diligently by delegates of some nations in private—and good work it could be.

The differences between the Slavic group and the other Allies fall into two categories: (1) those growing out of the realignment of zones of influence, and (2) those involved in the crusade for the spread of Communism into all lands. Of these the political issue is by far the most dangerous.

Must Adjust Arguments

By the process of give-and-take the powers might adjust an argument over who should control a certain strategic zone. But it's a different thing when you try to deal with a global campaign to spread the Red ism, for there is no way to achieve an effective compromise on that, especially since the Communists hold that the western form of democracy is a threat to Communism and therefore must be destroyed.

The political battle is growing hotter daily, not only in Europe and Asia but here in our own country and in the rest of the Western Hemisphere. America in particular is the objective of Communism, because Uncle Sam is the capitalistic villian of the show.

All of eastern and southern Europe (except Greece) has been brought into the Soviet sphere of influence. So has that part of central Europe comprised in the German territory which Poland now occupies. The conflict of the ideas now at bay along the frontier of the Slavic bloc, especially over helpless little Austria and that portion of Germany which is occupied by the Western allies.

Berlin Is Hot Spot

Berlin is a particularly hot spot and the great metropolis would still is looked upon as Germany's political barometer, gave a strong rebuff to the Reds in last Sunday's city and borough council elections. Communism was beaten even in the Soviet zone by margin of three to two.

Then out in the Far East, United States military sources in Korea have disclosed excerpts from a document called "Joint Soviet-Communist master plan for Korea." This plan outlined how half a million Koreans in the Russian zone of northern Korea could be trained so that they would be able to establish a reds ad government. Then, by infiltration into the American zone in the southern half of the country, the whole of Korea could be Sovietized.

So goes the battle. Organized Communistic cells are busy in every country under the sun—from Iceland to the Orient. Naturally they receive the support and guidance of Moscow.

The Western Allies have in several instances intervened in an effort to ensure that the "opposition" in newly Sovietized countries had a fair break. Notable cases have been Bulgaria, Rumania and Poland. In Greece, of course, the Communists have claimed that British troops have dominated the position and maintained the monarchy.

If some wise man could figure out a way to remove the distrust between Russia and the other Allies so that Communism would stand or fall alone in an effort to destroy Western Democracy in order to safeguard road maybe we could have peace. But that's a tough order.

BRICKER ASSAILS U. S. BUREAUCRACY

By The Associated Press

Former Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican nominee for U. S. senator, assailed government bureaucracy in a campaign speech Monday night as his Democratic opponent, Senator James W. Huffman, sought to pin the blame for inflation on Republican leadership.

In the gubernatorial campaign, Republican and Democratic nominees exchange verbal shafts on strip mining.

In a speech at Cincinnati, Huffman criticized Bricker's views on removal of price controls and called him "the inflation candidate."

In a blast at what he called the "blind and arbitrary bureaucracy" of the Democratic administration, Bricker said at Defiance that elimination of price control on meat should gradually restore some jobs.

He said the "Washington bureaucrats are significantly silent on the number of persons thrown out of work by the breakdown of food production." He set his own estimate at one million.

Thomas J. Herbert, Republican nominee for governor, declared in a campaign speech at Conneaut, that Gov. Lausche has dodged his responsibility in the regulation of strip mining.

This prompted Lausche to declare that "Herbert, his associates and the strip mining interests are lying in the same bed."

Later, in a speech at Cincinnati, Lausche declared that Herbert was threatening to endanger the "whole fiscal policy of the state" by proposing a reduction in revenues.

GALION, Oct. 22—Sunday was home-coming day at the First United Brethren church here. Former pastors and their wives and former members and friends of the church attended the services and the basket dinner at noon.

Sessions during the day were presided over by Rev. C. V. Roop, pastor of the church.

First speaker was Mrs. C. O. Callender of Toledo, wife of a former pastor, who spoke during the Sunday school hour.

At the morning worship hour R. R. Ehrhart, industrial coordinator at Penn college, Cleveland, and former Galion High school instructor, gave an address. His subject was "England Today." Mr. Ehrhart was sent to England by the U. S. government in July, 1945, to help establish the Warton American Technical school at Warton, and then served as supervisor of training in the machine shop section of the school which had 3,500 G.I. students enrolled. While in England seven months, Mr. Ehrhart visited a number of technical schools and colleges as well as industries. When he lived in Galion from 1925 to 1934 he was an instructor in the Galion High school where he taught shop mathematics. He also was director of both the high school and city bands.

The morning service was completed with prayer offered by Rev. C. O. Callender of Toledo, former pastor, and two anthems by the choir. Mrs. Carl Freeman is director and Mrs. J. A. Steele is organist.

A short program was held at noon when the basket dinner was served in the church basement.

Herbert Speaks At Kenton G.O.P. Meeting

KENTON, O., Oct. 22—Paul M. Herbert, candidate for lieutenant governor of Ohio, speaking in Kenton last Friday evening attacked the present national administration, calling it "a personal type" of government which builds around one man and represents "selfishness, greed, cynicism and the get - all - you - can-when-you-can" idea.

"The Hitler system was built around one man," he stated, and the "Spain dictatorship was built around one man. They too, were a personal type of rule."

Al Conn, assistant attorney general of Ohio and Dr. Frederick C. Smith, congressman from the Eighth Ohio district also spoke and expressed similar opinions to Mr. Herbert.

J. E. Simpson, Hardin county's representative to the state legislature was chairman of the meeting.

Centralization Seen If Democrats Win

By The Associated Press

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 22—If a Democratic congress is elected Nov. 5, the United States will resume its trend toward a centralized state, Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) told east Tennessee Republicans last night.

If such a congress is elected "we will encourage in this country the whole totalitarian philosophy which 300,000 boys have died battling in every region of the world," he said in his address at a Republican rally.

"The one great issue today between the Republicans and the Democratic administration" is, he stated, "shall progress in this country be based, hereafter as in the past, on maintaining freedom and equal justice or on a constant increase in the unrestrained power and the unrestrained spending of a Washington bureaucracy?"

Service Ably Performed

MARION is observing this week as the meeting place of the Ohio Association of Elementary Superintendents and Principals. An organization of the men who have charge of the management and care of our state's young. Education is of course a very important matter just now. Ohio and other states have been jolted by the disclosures of inefficiency and mismanagement in Ohio, and while none is known to be guilty of graft in this area as in Cincinnati there are local problems and opportunity to express the public's gratitude and appreciation.

Marion can reason for especial interest in the meeting in Donald and Edward Sloan, prominent graduates of the state association, former Ohio farmers here as secondary superintendents. Donald is the present superintendent of Marion elementary, one of the most beautiful school grounds in Ohio. His brother preceded him in the same position, and before them the superintendent was their father the late E. A. Sloan.

The service of these three members of the Sloan family in the management of Marion elementary has covered a period of 38 years, which constitutes an unprecedented record in this community, a record also notable for its high standard of efficiency.

The management here can be regarded as typical of the fine service performed by all the elementary superintendents and officials making up the association now in convention here.

Another Crossroad

IT IS EVIDENT that the net effect of the controversy on price control has been to create the circumstances of another crossroad in national decision.

The United States can go in two directions in the direction of continued wage inflation, interference with and paralysis of production and further increases in prices. Or the United States can step up to the realities of its present position, acknowledge its mistakes to date and resolve not to commit them over and over again.

Virtually every person who has been trying to estimate the possibilities of the second course reaches the conclusion that everything now depends on the decision that must be forthcoming from the labor unions: whether their policy will be to force the inflationary spiral upward with further demands for substantial increases in wage rates, or whether they will take the lead in a policy of wage stabilization which would be the key to general economic stabilization.

A policy of wage stabilization would have at its core an increase in the purchasing power of wages. The increase would come about through the natural operation of free markets diminishing an increasing flow of food and manufactured goods. In a large sense, the purchasing power of wages would be raised by making the private enterprise system work more efficiently.

Organized labor could take a command role under The Canadian Forum, a leftist publication, has described it in this way:

"The destructive unrest so nearly ruined by the huge American strikes of recent months should remind us of the force that can be unleashed by organized labor. When you have suspended the works of a nation, either you move public and official wrath and at best move looking embarrassed leaving labor in a worse position than before, or you go forward with mass support and establish a revolutionary government. The latter alternative is fundamentally far from North American realities in 1946."

What may have caused the bad decisions that have needlessly handicapped conversion of the national economy from war to peace is apparent enough—and there have been enough bad ones to make all the guessers right some of the time. There have been blunders in policies in management in labor and some blunders chargeable to the whole people. There have been instances of something extremely close to treason. There has been stubbornness and mass stupidity. But what matters now is the future. The dead part can bury its dead.

The United States can have something better than it has had, or it can have a continuation of what it has been having, which assuredly would be much worse inflation already has too much momentum to reverse its direction without a positive application of the brakes. The transition from wartime regulation, which could have been made last June when the price control act expired, is going to be made the last three months of this year. If it is accompanied by a change in the direction of organized labor's thinking about its responsibility to the productive enterprise which gave it the world's highest standards of living and made the United States the arsenal of democracy in World War II, postwar recovery can be realized during 1947.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Little News This Year in Campaign Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—As every good Washingtonian is the Ballot Box Bandsman can tell you, the 1946 campaign is the first major election in the history of the republic without the publication of campaign expenditures. Throughout the whole country candidates are making their appeals with little information as to who is contributing and where it is coming from. Whatever may be the reason for the abolition of the publication of campaign expenditures (which was a Democratic idea originally), the fact is that the public is being kept in the dark.

Even the Democratic National Committee, which is charged with the responsibility of collecting the money, has no idea how much it will get. Chairman Hannegan has been telling his friends that he hopes to get $1,500,000, but he has no assurance that he will get that much. Republican National Committee officials are not even guessing the amount they will get. Republican leaders have been telling their candidates that they will be responsible for raising their own campaign funds.

Even the Democratic leaders admit that the CIO people will have spent around a $1,000,000 to defeat their opponents. Chief witnesses will be Sidney Hillman, the CIO political director, and Jack Kroll, the CIO-PAC director, with their personal knowledge of the spending problem. It is said that the CIO was merely spending money to educate the people, not to influence their political judgments. Most of the big guns of labor will be called "like Caesar's wife" (beyond reproach) and their judges and activities.

Labeled Out by Rules

The rules or regulations governing the receipt and account of the campaign funds were made not those of the recent 80th Congress. A Democratic bill the Democratic Congress passed requiring publication of campaign expenditures was killed by the Senate Republicans. The Republicans in the Senate were joined by Democrats who were afraid they might be embarrassed by the publication of their campaign expenditures. The Republicans in the House were joined by Democrats who were afraid they might be embarrassed by the publication of their campaign expenditures. The Republicans in the House were joined by Democrats who were afraid they might be embarrassed by the publication of their campaign expenditures.

There has been something about the CIO people which has been baffling and startling about a $1,000,000 is going into congress for registration. Chief witnesses will be Sidney Hillman, the CIO political director, and Jack Kroll, the CIO-PAC director, with their personal knowledge of the spending problem. It is said that the CIO was merely spending money to educate the people, not to influence their political judgments. The Big Secret

Study shows Marion is currently spending 20% less for each of her school children now than the average Ohio city. Several Ohio cities are paying their teachers up to 48% more than Marion does. Do we think less of our youngsters or our teachers than other cities do? Certainly not. Let's play fair with them.

All Marion is going to . . . VOTE "FOR" the SCHOOL LEVY so we can have Schools as good as the best

We believe in fair play and fair wages for all. We are definitely and sincerely interested in the welfare of our children. Steadily increasing costs of living make this school levy necessary to save penalizing our children by an ever lowering standard of education.

We are certain that the citizens of Marion realize these facts and they will approve this levy by a huge majority.

Your Vote "FOR" the School Levy is vital to the future of Marion and its Children

Church School To Open Here

DR. V. E. BUSLER

Miss Margaret Huffman

With Dr. Grace Sloan Overton, nationally known author and counsellor on family, youth and religious problems, scheduled as the first speaker, plans have been completed for the school of religion to be held at Epworth Methodist church Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor, is dean of the school which will be held at the church on five consecutive Wednesday nights, and Miss Margaret Huffman, director of religious education of the church, is registrar.

Dr. Busler said that a substantial attendance is expected because of the scope and importance of the problems set for discussion. Advance registration has not been required, however, and registration blanks may be filled out by all those coming to the first session.

Objective of School

"The school's objective," Dr. Busler commented, "is training for Christian living through growth in Christian character. We hope our school will afford a challenge to deeper thinking, an inspiration to higher living and an opportunity for growth in Christian living in the world of today." On the opening night of the school, as on the four consecutive Wednesday nights to follow, the school will open with a 45-minute seminar. Those attending may visit any of four classes in this seminar. Topics to be covered in the four classes are "The Church Plans for Its Children," "Helping Youth Become Good Stewards," "The Church and Community Life" and "Stewardship in Today's World." Each class will have a separate leader and the same classes will be continued throughout the five weeks of the school.

Following the seminar period, a speaker of recognized importance will address the entire school on problems of vital importance to the church, the family and the individual today.

Subject of Talk

Dr. Overton, guest speaker for the opening session, will discuss "When Romance Meets Realism," a topic that is expected to give full scope to her wide experience as a writer and lecturer on youth and family life problems. Her address will be broadcast over Station WMRN at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday.

No admission will be charged and it was emphasized by Dr. Busler that the school will be open to all interested individuals, regardless of religious affiliation.

STUDY OF HOLY LAND MADE AT SERVICE HERE

Rev. Lindberg Speaks at Emmanuel Baptist church.

Messages given with the purpose of showing how events in the Holy Land today are fulfilling Bible prophecy, illustrated with colored lantern slides, mark a Jewish Missionary conference being held in Emmanuel Baptist church. Rev. Milton B. Lindberg, who, with his wife, spent four years in Palestine in research and in learning the language of the country, is the speaker. The conference will last through Wednesday night.

Dr. C. E. Hreshey, pastor of Emmanuel church, in charge, reported good attendance and interest at the services. Special music on the marimba is presented at each service by Miss Dorotha Goyer of Marion, and duo pianists for congregational singing and music are Mrs. Robert Gustin and Mrs. Opal Milar. Tonight, Rev. and Mrs. Lindberg will sing in the modern Arabic language which is described as very similar to the language spoken in the Holy land in Bible times.

Sunday night, the prophecies given by Moses in the twenty-sixth chapter of the book of Leviticus were presented verse by verse, each followed by a picture of present day Palestine. Last night, there was a continuation of the study, showing how "the regathering of the Jews in the Zionist movement, and the building up of the land fulfills in minute detail the prophecies of the old testament, to culminate in the second coming of Christ."

Tonight's pictures will be concerned with Russia as well as with Palestine, "the present aggressive characteristics of the Russian government as seen to be in line with the prophecies of Ezekiel." While Wednesday night, the study will be concerned with "things that can be expected to happen in the near future as regards the Jews and the land of Palestine." The services are open to the public.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Mrs. Ruth E. Swearengin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hoffman of 486 North Main street, to Master Sgt. Paul A. Mooar, son of William D. Mooar of Norwood, O. The double ring ceremony was read Oct. 9 in Greenup, Ky., by Rev. B. L. Allen, Methodist pastor. M/Sgt. Mooar is stationed at Fort Eustis, Va., where the couple will make their home.

Pittsburgh AFL, CIO Waging "Beer" War

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22 — The AFL Teamsters' Union carried a local union beer "war" into the downtown district today by picketing saloons which the AFL said handled CIO-delivered beer.

Lester M. Hunt, spokesman for the AFL union, said all truck deliveries to the picketed saloons would be cut off. This would also halt milk, food and ice deliveries.

The teamsters also were trying to persuade AFL employes of the picketed saloons—such as waitresses and bartenders — to quit their jobs until further notice.

AFRICAN METHODIST TIFF LANDS IN COURT

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Oct. 22—The nationwide factional struggle between bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal church over control of the church landed in U. S. district court here today with the filing of a temporary injunction against one of the opposing parties.

The injunction granted by Judge Mell Underwood of Columbus against Rev. C. Ransom, Bishop of the Third A.M.E. district and chairman of the board of trustees of Wilberforce university, restrains him from conducting a trial of two other bishops of the A.M.E. church in Cincinnati Wednesday on charges of "rebellion."

The bishops accused by Ransom are David H. Sims of the First A.M.E. district, who resides in Philadelphia, and W. E. Fountain of the Sixth A.M.E. district, residing in Atlanta, Ga.

The bill of complaint filed by Bishops Sims and Fountain stated that Bishop Ransom on Sept. 1 of this year made charges against the character, services and integrity of the plaintiffs, that he appointed a trial committee, and ordered the accused bishops to appear for trial on Wednesday, Oct. 22 at Allen Temple A.M.E. church in Cincinnati.

The complaint continued that on Sept. 23 of this year the accused bishops were tried on the same charges in Brooklyn, N. Y., and acquitted.

In the suit the plaintiffs charge Bishop Ransom and nine other bishops with "mal-administration through a conspiracy" charging a plot to replace Bishop P. R. Wright and gain control of the First A.M.E. district and the entire A.M.E. church in general.

A hearing on the case will be held in Cincinnati Oct. 30 before Federal Judge John Druffel in U. S. district court, the temporary restraining order expiring in 10 days.

Grain Allowances To Distillers Hiked by OPA

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—The government boosted grain allowances to whisky, beer and ale bakers today in a step pointing to early removal of OPA ceilings on flour, bread and breakfast foods.

The restaurant industry meanwhile petitioned both OPA and the agriculture department for an end to ceilings on all meals and drinks served in public eating places.

Under the relaxed grain order, distillers will get about 16 per cent more in October and later months and brewers will get a quarterly increase of about 6 per cent.

Restrictions imposed last winter on the use of wheat by breakfast food and other food manufacturers also were lifted, except in the case of flour millers. Flour distribution will be kept at the rate in effect since the wheat shortage crisis of last winter.

Class Play Chosen by Harding Juniors

"Foot-loose" by Charles T. Burdette, a three-act comedy centering around the home of the Early family, has been chosen as the play to be given this year by the junior class of Harding High school. The selection was made by Mrs. Virginia Walker, coach. The play will be presented Dec 5-6 in the Central Junior High school auditorium. Try-outs for parts will begin Wednesday, Oct 23, and are to be completed by Friday, Oct. 25.

Included in the cast are seven boys and seven girls. Richard Early, the father, is a sincere, kind man. His wife, Emily, and mother of the Early household, consisting of two sons and two daughters, insists on living her children's lives for them, and forgets that they are growing up. The production staff for the play will be announced at a later date.

Confidential with Lewis' new chief, Navy Capt. Norman H. Collinson, federal coal mines administrator, disclosed that he already had written a letter to Lewis accepting the decision of an Illinois arbitrator—a decision favorable to the union—on the issue of vacations, one of the points raised by Lewis in his charge of contract violations.

Collinson's letter further suggested the appointment of an umpire to decide the second specific point whether coal should be weighed at the "tipple," as it comes out of the mines in tiny cars, or after it has been washed and impurities removed and the clean, marketable coal loaded on railroad freight cars.

Bone of Contention

It was on this score that Lewis contended the miners had lost "millions" of dollars which otherwise would have gone to their health and welfare fund. The fund receives a royalty of five cents a ton. Lewis insisted on tipple weighing.

Collinson's letter reaffirmed the government's position that "the 5 cents is payable with respect to salable or usable coal and is not payable with respect to impurities or foreign substances which may be mined along with the coal but which are eliminated by cleaning or other processing before sale."

On the other hand, Collinson said no loss to the fund should be permitted "which occurs through shrinkage of salable coal between the tipple and distant railroad scales, theft or other loss of salable or usable coal which are not reflected in railroad weights."

In turning against Krug, who gave the UMW a precedent-smashing contract to end the 59-day bituminous strike last spring, Lewis warily avoided any direct mention of a strike call should the government refuse to negotiate a new contract. The Smith-Connally act provides a stiff fine and jail term for incitement to strike against the government. However, the miners traditionally refuse to work without a contract.

Leaves Little Doubt

But the UMW chief left little doubt that he will press new wage demands to supplement the 18½-cent hourly boost granted by Krug last May 29. His letter to Krug said the requested negotiating conference should consider "new arrangements affecting wages, hours, rules, practices, differentials, inequalities and all other pertinent matters."

Lewis' complaint of alleged vacation contract violations took shape against the following background.

Payment of a share of the $100 vacation grant—one-twelfth for each month on the payroll—was limited to those miners who had worked for the government since seizure May 22. Those who quit prior to that could not be paid by the government, Admiral Ben Moreell, former coal mines administrator, had ruled.

Lewis called this, and the rail car weight "unilateral misinterpretations" of the Krug-Lewis agreement.

In his letter to Krug the UMW chief contended the contract provides that either party may reopen it by giving 10 days' notice of a new negotiating conference. Fifteen days after that, Lewis added, either party can end the pact after five additional days. That timetable could bring an end to the present working agreement on Nov. 20.

FBI PROBING MISSOURI VOTING — The Kansas City, Mo., primary election of Aug. 6 is under scrutiny of the department of justice as the FBI launches a probe of alleged voting irregularities in the Democratic primary election that saw Enos Axtell, right, with President Truman's support, defeat Rep Roger Slaughter, left, for the Fifth Missouri district congressional nomination.

written into the draft Balkan peace treaties over Russian objection.

He called also for a cessation of "the war of nerves" and criticized some nations at the Paris peace conference for "attempts to use the conference as a forum for propaganda speeches" and "to level frivolous charges against others."

Expressing British views on troubles which have been rubbed raw by the Moscow radio and salted by Russian conferees, Bevin said:

Allegations that Great Britain intends "to oppress and exploit the peoples of the Middle East" are "just sheer nonsense."

That plan is in "a very dangerous position where the interests of several governments meet." He said Britain wanted to see the country "free from foreign interference."

Greece Upset

He said the "war of nerves" over the Dardanelles made matters "much more awkward" and that "constant agitation x x x from outside has upset Greece, which he said should have a "broadly-based government."

Prodded by opposition leader Winston Churchill, Bevin shouted "I give the lie" to accusations of British interference in Greece.

"Not Britain's Fault"

He reaffirmed his determination to achieve understanding among the great powers—Great Britain, the United States, Russia, France, and China.

"It will not be the fault of his majesty's government if it does not come," he declared, opening a two-day debate on basic British foreign policy.

Bevin told the house of commons that Britain was anxious to conclude an enduring peace with Japan and insure against future Japanese aggression.

Sees Encouraging Signs

He spoke of "encouraging signs" in Indonesia (the rich Netherlands East Indies), said British troops would leave the islands by Nov. 30.

About Egypt, the foreign secretary said:

"We are handicapped in bringing our negotiations with Egypt to a conclusion by internal political difficulties in Egypt itself."

A dozen foreign ambassadors and ministers sat in the gallery of the packed house listening to his address, which had been spoken of in the British press as "the most important speech of his career."

The debate, which will be carried on today by R. A. Butler, conservative and former cabinet member, and tomorrow by Prime Minister Clement Attlee and Winston Churchill, also is expected to touch on British policy in Egypt, Greece, India and Palestine.

Sandwiched between the closing of the Paris peace conference and the opening of the United Nations general assembly meeting in New York, the foreign policy debate in Britain follows by only a few days the recent restatement of U. S. foreign policy by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Pastor of Poland Thanks Kenton for Clothing Shipment

Special to The Star

KENTON, Oct. 22—Last February when Kenton churches collected clothing to be sent overseas, Mrs. Everett Cole pinned a note into the sleeve of a garment to be sent abroad.

Last week she received an airmail letter from Poland. The note began "Ukochani, Serdecznie Wam dziekuje za wasza—" leading Mrs Cole to believe that someone had been tampering with a typewriter.

She took the note to a Kenton man for translation. It read—

"Dear Friends, We thank you wholeheartedly for your Christian love, and the gift that you have sent us is priceless. Because of the terrible war we have lost everything. Therefore your help means so much to us, even the smallest article. I do not wish to impose on your kindness but if you could send us something it would be for us God-given. May God reward you for all you have done. Hoping to hear from you, and we would like to tell you more about our life. With brotherly greetings."

The letter was from Stanley Slotvinski, pastor of the Methodist church in Tarnow, Poland.

Legion Emblem Bone of Political Contention

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22—The American Legion emblem provided a new subject for friction between Ohio Democrats and Republicans today.

The campaign committee of Frank Lausche recently issued a booklet containing a reprint of a story about Lausche in the victory souvenir book of the Ohio Legion convention. On the front was the Legion emblem.

Today the executive committee of the war veterans Republican clubs of Ohio adopted a resolution in which it "severely condemned" what it described as use of the emblem "for political purposes" in violation of Legion regulations.

John E. Lokar, secretary of the Lausche-for-Governor committee, said Legion officials had authorized reprinting of the article from the souvenir book, but that a printer had inserted the emblem "unintentionally."

Pork and Beans Go Up 2 to 3 Cents Per Can

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Grocery prices for canned pork and beans and baked beans will go up two or three cents a can, OPA announced today.

The agency allowed an immediate increase in ceilings for processed beans because of higher labor and other costs. The increases will reach consumers, OPA added, when the first cans of the higher priced food reach retail stores.

Dry edible beans, sometimes called navy beans, are used in preparing the canned products. They are reported to be scarce and for that reason have been kept under price ceilings.

Envelope Shortage Holds Up Leave Pay

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 — Distribution of $2,700,000,000 in terminal leave pay to war veterans is being delayed by a shortage of envelopes.

Announcing this today, Maj. Gen. W. H. Kaston, Army chief of finance, said it probably will be next month before there are sufficient envelopes of proper size to mail out the five year treasury bonds which make up the bulk of the payments.

Earlier there was a delay in engraving and distributing the bonds to the Army finance officers, and to the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard which are paying the claims of veterans for the wartime leave they earned but did not use while in service.

Bonds must be used in settling most claims that total more than $50, odd sums being paid by treasury check. The bonds are dated back to the time of discharge and bear 2½ per cent interest.

Stock Yards Operations Reported Nearly Normal

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—Operations in most of the country's big stockyards were slowly returning to normal today as more butchers returned to their jobs to handle the heavy arrival of meat animals since lifting the price ceilings a week ago.

As the labor situation reportedly began to ease and arrivals at markets continued at near record volume, packers reported they were delivering greater quantities of beef, pork and lamb to butcher shops.

However, packer spokesmen said that prices in the shops were high, the supply was spotty and that some shops are getting more meat than others. All stores, however, gradually are returning to normal and they said there should be fair supplies this week when the first concrete returns from the heavy selling last week becomes apparent.

At Chicago's big yards, Wilson and Co,. was killing 90 cattle an hour, compared with a normal of 108. Other packing plants reported their cattle kill approaching normal and most expected to be operating at full schedule by the middle of next week. Packing spokesmen said lack of workers was keeping the hog slaughter at about 50 per cent of normal, while there was a shortage of help in the yards. Slaughtering operations were reported near "normal" at plants in Kansas City.

Receipts at 12 major markets yesterday totaled 158,800 cattle, 62,500 hogs and 118,600 sheep.

With the heavy supply continuing, hog prices generally rose about $1 a hundred pounds yesterday after advancing $2 at the start of trade. Cattle sold from $1 to $2 per hundred pounds lower, with most beef animals going below $30 per hundred pounds. Sheep were off $1 to $2.

ca's intentions of annexing Southwest Africa, the old German colony which the Union administers under a League of Nations mandate. The annexation proposal has been placed before the general assembly for consideration.

The disposal of several other league mandates under a trusteeship council seemed assured with the announcement last night that the United Kingdom had submitted terms under which it would agree to trusteeships for Tanganyika, Togoland and Cameroon, all in Africa.

Serve As Administrators

If the British proposals and those of Australia and France for trusteeships over their mandates are accepted by the assembly, the trusteeships council would set up as the last major organ of the UN to be established. The mandate holders would serve as administering states, with the United States, Russia and China as the non-administering members of the council.

France has offered French Togoland and Cameroon and the Australians have offered their portion of New Guinea.

The American delegation headed by former Senator Warren Austin of Vermont continued its day-long sessions of combing through the list of problems on the assembly agenda.

Austin himself will serve on the asembly's general (steering) committee and the headquarters committee, which will point the way for establishment of the world peace capital in nearby Westchester county or may accept one of the rival proposals offered by New York City and the San Francisco area.

The report on five proposed sites surveyed in Westchester county will be made public tonight. As a counter to New York's offer of 350 acres in the 1939-40 World's Fair grounds in Flushing, where the assembly will meet in the old New York city building, San Francisco is carrying on its campaign to convince the UN fathers that it has more spacious lands to offer with reasonable costs of building construction.

J. Taylor, president of the American Merchant Marine Institute, representing the operators, pending notification of the union membership and ship operating companies.

Terms Hinted

While the exact terms of the contract were not disclosed, a spokesman for the Marine engineers said earlier that a tentative agreement provided the following:

1. A 15 per cent general wage hike. The union originally sought a 35 per cent increase.

2. Payment of $1.60 per hour for overtime. The MEBA originally asked for $2 an hour and subsequently reduced the demand to $1.75 an hour.

3. Payment of $1.50 an hour on night relief work.

4. Inclusion of a preferential hiring clause which would state, in effect, that non-union engineers could be hired by ship operators, but that such employes would be expected to join the union after employment.

The masters seek a 30 per cent increase and the closed shop.

Present monthly pay rates for the engineers range from $224 for junior engineers to $493 for chief engineers on Liberty ships, and $235 for junior engineers to $371 for chief engineers on America-class passenger ships.

Nearly twice the number of Americans killed in World War II were fatally burned in U. S. fires since 1900.

DANGER IN NEGLECT
No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.
Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.
Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — without operation. My medical procedure does away with the cause of piles or the discomfort, does not consider the use of salves or douches, and relieves in the quickest manner possible, so that many may return to work or other duties.

Rep. Smith Attacks Truman Statements in Decontrol Talk

President Truman's speech preceding the removal of OPA ceilings on meat was the target of an address by Congressman Frederick C. Smith Monday night at Republican headquarters.

The address was made before approximately 200 Republicans who gathered there for a pot-luck supper and rally.

Congressman Smith compared the government's proposal to seize cattle on the range as a means of settling the meat shortage to Communism tactics in gaining control of Russia. Seizure of the livestock would mean the "arbitrary distribution of meat and ultimately seizure and complete control of all farm products. It means in the end the seizure of the farmers themselves," the congressman declared.

Text of his address follows:

"Mr. Truman, in his speech announcing the decontrol of meat said that nine months before expiration of the price control act he had urged congress to renew the act. The truth is that while Mr. Truman may have announced publicly that he wished an early consideration of the act he did not take the usual and practical steps necessary to accomplish that end.

"Those who are acquainted with the procedure followed where the chief executive desires action on a measure, know that it would have required only that the president ask the chairman of the senate committee on banking and finance and the chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, the two committees which had the bill in charge, to act on the measure.

Hearings Delayed

"Instead, hearings were delayed in the committees until shortly before the expiration of the act. The strategy was to delay action in order that the bill might be rushed through the committees and congress as an emergency measure at the last moment. In this way, they hoped to rush the bill through without amendments or changes.

"Mr. Truman also told us that many had suggested that the government take over the packing houses and that the government go out on the farms and ranges and seize the cattle. To these suggestions the President states that 'long and serious consideration' was given. Nothing completely shows the extent to which the New Deal has taken our nation into collectivism as this ominous admission by the President.

"That is what the Bolsheviks did to complete their Communist state in bringing the Russian people entirely under slavery. The seizure of the livestock from the Russian farmers caused the starvation of millions of the Russian people and permanently reduced their standard of living below what it had been under the tyranny of the Czars.

"It would necessarily follow that seizure of the livestock would require the seizure of the feed, since these animals would have to be fed. It would also mean the arbitrary distribution of the meat and ultimately seizure and complete control of all farm products. It means in the end the seizure of the farmers themselves.

"This admission shows what the New Deal regime has in mind and what we may expect it to carry out if allowed to remain in power. It would hardly be expected that the New Deal would seize the livestock on the farms and put the farms under totalitarian control without extending this procedure to all other industries and groups."

Candidates Attend

Among the county candidates present were Kenneth A. Robinson, candidate for representative to the Ohio general assembly; Luther Mitchell, candidate for county commissioner; Harry V. Mounts, candidate for county auditor and Calvin Oborn, who seeks election to the clerk of courts office in a write-in campaign.

More than 200 persons attended the rally, with the Republican hall filled and many standing in the back of the room. Accordion solos were played by Marion Apple and Mrs. Mary Eloise Furniss led in group singing.

Marion Hinklin, chairman of the county executive committee, introduced the county candidates and Mrs. W. N. Harder, president of the Marion County Republican Women's club, introduced Congressman Smith.

The rally, which opened with a potluck supper at 6:30 p. m., was sponsored by the Marion County Republican club and the Marion County Republican Women's club.

Missing Pilot Sought on Bad Check Charge

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22—Allegheny county detectives enlisted the aid of airports in eight eastern states today in searching for a 19-year-old student pilot missing since his small plane took off from Butler-Alameda airport yesterday.

The pilot, Charles R. Cessna of Verona, was sought under an information filed before Alderman Joseph P. Rigby which charged him with passing a worthless $3,000 check. The information charged that Cessna issued the check to West Penn Aviation, Ind., in payment for the plane, a new one.

Rigby said Cessna first took off from Bettis airport at 6 a. m. yesterday, with about two hours' supply of gasoline. He stopped later at Butler-Alameda airport to repair a wheel damaged in the takeoff.

Justice of the Peace Fred N. Mehagan of Wilkinsburg said he held a warrant charging Cessna with forgery of a $40 check.

WALLACE TO SPEAK

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22—Henry A. Wallace, former secretary of commerce, will make a major political speech here Nov. 2 before a pre-election rally sponsored by the CIO-political action committee. Announcement of his talk was made last night by A. E. Stevenson, secretary of the Cleveland industrial union council.

IRISH WAR BRIDE ON TRIAL—Mrs. Bridget Waters, the Irish war bride on trial accused of the murder of her estranged American husband, Frank K. Waters of Los Angeles, is shown entering the Las Vegas, Nev., courtroom.

PILOTS PICKET T. W. A. SHOPS — Six pilots of Trans World Airlines march, minus the usual placecards. A picket line set up in Kansas City, Mo., before the airline's big maintenance shops. The strike followed a 20-hour ultimatum by the Airline Pilots Association (AFL) demanding prompt action on wage increases, company officials said.

claim of $1,250 a month, or $15,000 a year.

Pilots of the giant four engine Constellations have been earning up to $918 a month.

Neither Jack Frye, the TWA president, nor David L. Behncke, head of the AFL Air Line Pilots' association, showed any inclination to budge from the adamant stand each took shortly before the line's 1,400 fliers began their walkout early yesterday.

The strike tied up 115 airplanes along more than 28,000 miles of routes from California to Arabia.

What, if anything, the government might do remained uncertain.

St. Mary Booster Club Organized at Meeting

First steps in the organization of a St. Mary Booster club were taken at a meeting of interested parishioners Monday night in Moira hall. The meeting was attended by approximately 50 persons.

Joseph Bingham was named temporary chairman and plans were made to hold a meeting next Tuesday night at the hall at which time permanent officers will be named and plans outlined for club activities. The objective of the Booster club is to create and further parish interest in all activities of St. Mary parochial school.

Wittred Case Diagnosis Confirmed by Specialist

The condition of William Ernest Wittred, who has been unconscious nearly 13 days, is reported by the attending physician to be unchanged. The physician says the poisonous gas fumes in Wittred's body have damaged a certain layer of the brain, which causes him to remain in a coma and not respond to any treatment and that the longer he remains in this coma, the less his chances are of surviving.

A brain specialist from Columbus, Dr. Harry LeFever, examined Mr. Wittred Sunday and confirmed the diagnosis of Marion physicians. Dr. LeFever also said that Wittred's condition is "not good."

Russians Reject U. S. Demand on Bulgaria

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Russia's jealous grip on the Balkans was underlined anew today as the state department docketed still another Soviet rebuff—this time in connection with Bulgaria.

The department disclosed that the latest friction developed when Russia bluntly rejected an American plan for Allied action to guarantee free and fearless elections in Bulgaria.

Moscow's official representative, Col. Gen. Sergei Biryusov, asserted the plan was not only improper from a jurisdictional standpoint but also constituted "rude interference" in Bulgarian affairs.

Flood Control Plans Slowed Down to Walk

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Flood control and navigation programs slowed down to a walk today in the face of spending limits fixed by President Truman's economy order.

A newly authorized $600,000,000 outlay for public works does not apply to waterway projects, officials said.

The flood control ceiling set a week ago stands at $130,000,000 for the 12 months ending next June and the limitation on navigation projects remains at $90,000,000.

Officials made no promise that these allowances would be raised. They said only that water projects are being reviewed.

Workers Pay $100 a Year on U. S. Debt

Interest on our national debt alone requires every one of our 55 million workers to pay the Federal government an average of approximately $100 a year. This amount will not pay a cent toward retiring our debt of $297.2 billion, but is simply an average annual tax operating against every worker's pocketbook.

Borrowed Goods

The government is finishing up the job of returning to their owners the 8,500-odd pairs of binoculars "rented" for World War II for $1. Some 50,000 sets were offered, but most of them were unsuitable.

Many of the binoculars are missing in action, or listed as casualties. The Navy will be unable to return perhaps 2,400 pairs. Some 400 were damaged beyond repair. The department will replace its casualties with surplus Navy binoculars of similar quality.

The Navy bought more than 300,000 pairs of binoculars during the war and began rounding up the loaned glasses in 1944. Most of the returned sets were accompanied by a letter from the officer who used them, describing their service.

Steel Plant Shut Down by Unauthorized Strike

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22—The Blooming Mill of the Corrigan-McKinney works of the Republic Steel Corp., was shut down today by what both company and union officials described as an unauthorized strike.

The stoppage was launched yesterday by three members of the CIO-United Steel Workers who set up a picket line in a dispute over working schedules, company officials said.

Owen Dixon, international representative of the union, said the strike was "in violation of the contract," but that the men had refused his request to return to work and submit the dispute to regular grievance procedure. He said he would meet with the men again today.

Playing at Garfield park Saturday afternoon, Pearl Street outscored Forest Lawn 25 to 12. M. Speros scored touchdowns in every quarter of the contest, T. Speros scoring an extra point in final period. Forest Lawn scored in the first and second quarters.

By a margin of one point, Oak Street downed Glenwood 13 to 12 on the Marion Metal grounds. Gagger and Zwolle scored for Glenwood in the first and second quarters, both posting nice runs. Freibour scored in the initial quarter for Oak and Sporre scored the point after. Walters went to pay dirt for Oak in the second quarter.

Playing on the Lincoln field, Silver Street downed North Main 18 to 10. Silver scored in every quarter except the last on passes by Scott to Watts. North Main's scores came as a result of a touchdown pass from DeLong to Hass in the first quarter and safeties scored in the second and third quarters.

Olney defeated Greenwood 6 to 0 at McKinley field. The only score of the game was made in the second quarter.

St. Mary getting a TD in the second and third quarter, bettered Oakland 12 to 8 at the Marion Power Shovel field. St. Mary's scores were made on passes from Anderson to Merchant. Thomas scored for Oakland in the first period and a safety was scored in the second.

Neither George Washington nor Mark Street showed up for their game at Central so the game will be played tonight at Garfield.

The chime and organ recordings are played and amplified through the church loud speaker system preceding Sunday school and worship services.

CINCINNATI ENGINEERS OUT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 22—The Corps of Engineers' Cincinnati district, established in 1870, goes out of existence Dec. 1. The war department announced at Washington yesterday that the district would be discontinued, in the interest of economy, and its functions would be transferred to Huntington, W. Va., and the Louisville, Ky., districts.

FUND DRIVE

by Mrs. J. F. Lacey, pianist and Miss Mary Ellen Manson. Mrs. Lacey is club counselor, and Miss Manson is president of the Junior Lecture-Recital club. Hugh May led a community sing. The invocation was spoken by Rev. H. M. McAdow, pastor of Wesley Methodist church.

In the list of workers published in The Star yesterday the name of Mrs. Charles Stephenson was incorrectly listed as Mrs. George Stevenson. Mrs. Stephenson is working with Mrs. Elmer Huffman's group.

Eight Share in Drive

Six local agencies and two national ones will share in the proceeds of the 1946 drive. While the goal is below that of last year the requests of the agencies were met and no budgets were cut, the advisory board's report shows. All were carefully studied and any increases requested were deemed necessary by the board. Last years goal included requests for funds by the China, Greek, Polish and other War Relief agencies which are not included this year. Two new agencies, the Community Foundation Hospitalization and Medical Care fund which was set up after the close of the annual campaign last year and the United Seamen's Service are included this year. The Hospitalization and Medical Care fund has been made a permanent agency in the foundation program and its administration is in the hands of the King's Daughters. The hospitalization allocation is a revolving fund to be used for hospital and medical care when time and the emergency will not permit waiting for action by the proper social service. Recipients of the benefits of the fund will be expected to repay any money received, in the event they are able to do so. If, after two or three years, it is found the fund is unnecessary, it can be eliminated, the board states.

Plan of Distribution

The proposed $61,000 is to be disbursed as follows: Y.M.C.A., $16,665; Harding Area Boy Scouts, $12,000; Marion Girl Scout Council, $7,750; Y.W.C.A., Girl Reserves, $475; Salvation Army, $9,400; United Service Organization, $6,800; United Seamen's Service, $100; Community Foundation Hospitalization and Medical Care fund, $2,000; contingency reserve, $7,000; campaign expense, $2,000; operating expenses, $2,000.

As a contributor to the annual campaign, citizens are relieved of additional solicitations. Otherwise eight separate agencies would be conducting individual campaigns each year, the foundation points out. In addition to cutting the cost of a campaign to a minimum—through holding one drive to raise funds to finance all agencies—men and women, whose time and energies are donated, are asked to serve in one drive only. Contributors are asked to give only once a year, and donors are assured of making a "balanced gift" as agency budgets are set up on the basis of actual need and the public service each performs. One drive reaches everyone the workers point out and an orderly method for conducting the campaign is carried out rather than the confusion of many.

Carrying out the slogan of "giving one day's pay," the donor has the assurance that the work of eight deserving agencies will be continued for a 12-month period, has an inward feeling of satisfaction of having a part in making Marion a growing community, a feeling of community satisfaction through support of a community spirit and of lending a helping hand to organizations and the less fortunate individuals.

STEELS AND MOTORS LEAD STOCK DECLINE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—Steels motors led a general decline in today's stock market after an early selective recovery attempt failed to attract a following.

Dealings, slow most of the time, picked up a bit before midday as selling orders became a bit more urgent although the ticker tape frequently halted.

Growing labor-management disputes, brokers said, apparently served to discourage bullish contingents.

Prominent on the offside were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Schenley, American Smelting, Eastman Kodak, Douglas Aircraft and Kennecott.

Cotton, up $5 a bale at the start, lost part of its advance.

Programs on the Air

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 — Both broadcast and telecast will go into action for the opening in New York tomorrow afternoon of the United Nations general assembly. Included is President Truman's address of welcome.

All networks have rearranged their schedules to carry the ceremonies, with air time listed by MBS and ABC for 4 p. m. and by NBC and CBS for 4:30. Besides the President, speakers are announced as Paul Henri Spaak, president of the assembly, and Trygve Lie, UN secretary general. Each network also is providing a full crew of commentators.

As a preliminary, CBS at 10:30 tonight has scheduled in place of its weekly open hearing a discussion of the assembly in which Dr. Luis Padilla of Mexico and Dr. Jose Arce of Argentina are to participate. Wednesday at 12:30 p. m. NBC is to carry New York City's welcome to the delegates from city hall, with Sec. of State James F. Byrnes and others to speak.

After the opening a regular series of assembly programs is to be put on. Both in regular news periods and at other times.

Radio Odds and Ends: Joe Louis punched out the first of a series of weekly broadcasts last week emanating from his Harlem Restaurant via MBS. Radio critics unanimously agreed the opening session, like his pugilistic ventures, was a knockout. . . . A major sponsor has offered Jeanette MacDonald and her husband, Gene Raymond, a variety show. . . . Joan Davis' talented 13-year-old daughter, Beverly, is always at her mother's radio show and is a frequent visitor on the set. . . . Tallulah Bankhead has threatened to walk off several programs because the laugh material scripted for her was too weak. . . . The exodus of the major airers to the West Coast is gradually hitting the recording firms in the East. An appreciable number of top recording artists will now wax their songs on the West Coast. . . . Mutual's "Quick as a Flash" dramatic quizz show will publish and distribute educational booklets, based on the program's formats, to school teachers throughout the country for use as a new classroom idea in teaching history and other subjects. . . . Singers seeking a short cut to the Metropolitan Opera House might try James Melton, whose program is searching for new opera talent.

BOTH HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS PLAY AT STADIUM THIS WEEK

Prexy-Ashland Tilt Thursday; St. Mary-Lima St. Rose, Friday

Harding will meet Ashland Thursday night at the stadium and Friday night St. Mary will use the field to entertain the Lima St. Rose gridders.

Ashland is the only traditional rival left on the Harding schedule, the feud between the two schools dating back to 1913 when Marion handed the Arks a 25 to 13 setback. Since then Ashland has won 21 of the contests and Harding has been victorious in 13 of the encounters, only three ending as draws.

Ashland won their eleventh victory 13-6 in 1938 and since then the Premiers have been victorious in seven out of the last nine games. In 1937 the teams fought to a 6 to 6 draw and in 1941 both failed to score.

Rivalry Always Great

The rivalry between the two teams has always been great and although Harding has the better record for the past decade the games have usually been close. Harding amassed up its biggest score 39 to 7 in 1938. That was the first time a Marion club had posted a victory over the Arks since 1928. Harding has won by one point twice, six points twice, by two touchdowns once and by nine points the other time.

This year Ashland will come to Marion sporting a record of five wins and one tie against the five losses and a tie Marion has chalked. The Arks record of beating the Premiers are probably better for this year than at any other time since 1936. The Ashland team has often enjoyed the distinction of being the pre-game favorite in the past 10 years, however, the Premiers always managed to hold them or pull an upset. Ashland last year was the only team which Marion defeated, Harding won by a score of 14 to 13.

Irish Rank as Underdogs

After losing three in a row St. Mary is definitely the underdog for their contest with the always powerful Lima St. Rose. The Irish were able to knock at the door several times last Saturday but were not admitted here, the end zone often enough for them to gain a victory over the wrong-jo jawed Rockwood Tigers.

This was the only contest in the Mid-State league played and as a result of the 12 to 6 defeat St. Mary is only ahead of Sunbury in the league standings. Marysville is still leading by virtue of two wins, Mt. Gilead is in second place with a win and a tie while Rockwood has a win, a loss, and a tie to put them in third place.

Mt. Gilead will get a chance to move into first position Friday night as they play the league leader at Marysville. Both teams had last weekend, Marysville on a muddy field to London 7-0 and Mt. Gilead 12 to 7 to Bellville. Rockwood will play at West Jefferson in a non-league tilt.

Carey Undefeated

Going into the home stretch of an undefeated and untied season Carey plays Fremont St. Joseph at home. Having won six in a row, Carey has amassed 130 points against 13 for their opponents this season.

Kenton's Docmumen were stared plenty by Van underdog Ada eleven last weekend, having to come from behind to gain a 6 to 6 draw in a non-league tilt. This weekend Kenton goes to Celina for a league game.

In the Northern Ohio league Shelby retained its position at the top by downing Bellevue 20 to 6. Upper Sandusky tied for second with Norwalk will play Bucyrus at home. Upper last weekend tailed Galion 13 to 7 while Bucyrus dropped one to Crestline 7 to 6.

It is interesting to note that Bucyrus has beaten Norwalk while Norwalk has likewise defeated Upper. On the other hand Galion beat Bucyrus while Upper handed Galion a beating in figuring past performances gets nothing as to the sure winner. Upper has the better record however and will be favored in the contest.

Galion in the meantime will play host to the cellar dwellers Bellevue.

In the county some of the six-man and eight-man squads will finish their season. Clarkson would was defeated by Fremont last Friday and wind up its season at home against Centerville. Clarkson has a record of three wins against two losses for the season. Caledonia remains undefeated.

Labrae will play Bucyrus on the LaBrae field and Prospect which registered its first victory of the season against Claridon will be idle. LaBrae and Prospect meet next weekend.

Ashland Pep Rally Set Tomorrow at Stadium

A big pep rally will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. for the Harding-Ashland game on the Harding practice field, rain or shine.

An excellent program has been arranged by the committee in charge, including the Harding band, speeches by the coaches and members of the team and the burning of the Ashland dummy in a gigantic bonfire. If you wish to support the team, come on out to the pep rally and join in the fun. Every one is welcome.

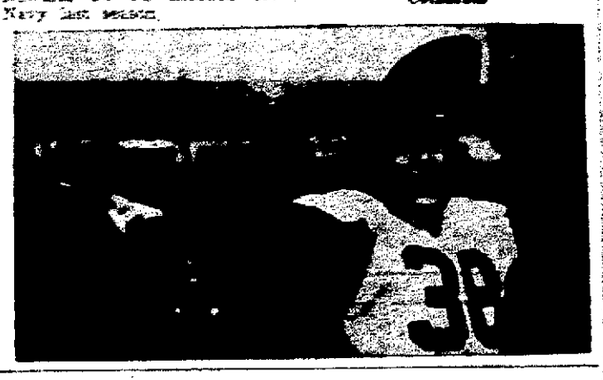
Three backfield men who are playing important roles in the success of their respective eleven are George Clark of Duke, Lou Kusserow of Columbia and Tony (Skippy) Minisi, Penn's left-handed passer.

Clark, 175-pound senior from Wilson, N. C., was one of Duke's big guns in the 21-6 victory over Navy. The 21-year-old halfback has been invaluable as a runner and passer for the Blue Devils.

Kusserow, 19, is living up to expectations at Columbia. The 171-pound Glassport, Pa. fullback helped beat Navy and Yale.

Minisi, 20, is the big ace for Penn. The 183-pounder from Newark, N. J., excelled for Navy last season.



E. Lee Keyser Tipped as Mudhen President

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 21 — The Toledo Times said today that E. Lee Keyser, former owner of the Kansas City and Des Moines baseball teams, has been appointed president of the Toledo Mud Hens of the American Association.

He will occupy the position left vacant by the resignation of G. E. (Eddie) Gilfillard, now a director of the Detroit Tigers, farm network, the Times said. It was learned that the appointment is effective Nov. 1.

Keyser in 1919 bought an interest in Des Moines of the Western league and in the early 20's purchased the Kansas City club. After the Western league broke up in 1937 he became active in Des Moines politics and is presently assistant state director of the U. S. employment service for Iowa.

The Times also reported that the Muchens would train next season at Sanford, Fla., instead of San Antonio, Tex., as they have in the past.

Iowa To Be at Full Strength for Struggle with Notre Dame

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—Notes from the Big Nine practice fields:

Iowa—The Hawkeyes will be at full strength for their battle with Notre Dame Saturday... Guard Russ Reeds and Center Dick Woodard, have been taken off the injury list and Ellen Tunnell, outstanding halfback who did not play against Indiana, also will be ready. Tunnell, who could have been used in the Hoosier game, was withheld by Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson after Iowa piled up its two touchdown margin. He may be the player Anderson will feature in a high-powered passing attack being cooked up for the undefeated Irish.

Michigan — In good physical shape after its 14-14 tie with Northwestern, Michigan began preparing for its homecoming game Saturday with Illinois... Coach Fritz Crisler expressed concern over the alarming speed of the Illini's Buddy Young and said that a successful stopper against him will have a large bearing on any hope for a Wolverine victory.

Ready for Michigan

Illinois—Alex Agase, Art Dufelmeier and Mike Karaj, hurt in the Wisconsin game, will be ready for the Michigan test... And Captain Mac Wenskunas will be able to play after being sidelined with a shoulder injury for two weeks.

Purdue — Coach Cecil Isbell plans to alternate Bob De Moss and John Galvin in the quarterback spot against Pitt... De Moss demonstrated in the 14-14 tie with Ohio State that he was not bothered by the harness designed to protect his injured shoulder.

Indiana—The Hoosiers cripple list had seven new members and Coach Bo McMillin was forced to reach deep into reserve and freshman ranks for replacements for the Nebraska game Saturday.

Among those hurt were Captain Howard Brown and Frank Cain, guards; fullbacks Pete Pihos and Harry Jagade; centers John Cannary and George Kerasotes and end Abe Aflalumi.

Northwestern — Coach Lynn Waldorf gave his first stringers and major replacements the day off yesterday and began drilling reserves for the game with College of Pacific Saturday... Don Thomas, regular guard who missed the Michigan contest with a knee injury, will be fit to start against Amos Alonzo Stagg's team... Open field tackling and pass defense were the main items on the Wildcat's practice menu.

"Time On Their Hands"

Wisconsin—With a lot of time on its hands to prepare for its next game Nov. 2 with Purdue, Wisconsin's varsity was given a day of rest yesterday... Coach Harry Stuhldreher said the open date Saturday "will give us a chance to pay closer attention to some of the boys who may have started slowly and haven't had much of a chance to show their ability."

Ohio State—Coach Paul Bixler promised Buckeye fans "something new offensively" when Ohio State meets Minnesota Saturday. "We've got to open up our offensive if we hope to do anything," Bixler said. "We can't run inside all day long like we did against Purdue."

Minnesota—Tom Cates, Herman Frickey, Bob Sandberg, Bill Carroll, Merle Moelmbe, Larry Olszewski and Bill Baumgartner—all of whom were withheld from the Wyoming game because of healing injuries—have rejoined the Gophers' lineup.

MEETING NEAR NORTON

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. McDougal of east of Norton entertained the Past Presidents' club of the Protected Home Circle Wednesday night at their home. A pot-luck supper preceded the meeting and decorations were in keeping with the Halloween season. T. G. Kraus was in charge of the meeting, after which bunko was played with high honors going to C. I. Smithson and Mrs. Alma Anderson, low to T. G. Kraus and Mrs. Leslie Smithson, and consolation to Mrs. Laura Kraus and Charles Conrad. The next meeting will be Nov. 13 with Mrs. Alma Anderson of 290 Franklin street.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22—Minnesota's Gophers can count on a revised offensive strategy by the Ohio State Bucks here next Saturday—and in probably will include a lot of passes.

That, at least, was Coach Paul Bixler's confidence after scanning up his team's faults and strengths in an all-day session of pre-game preparations.

"We've got to open up our offensive if we hope to do anything," Bixler said. "We can't run inside all day long like we did against Purdue."

Central Juniors Trip Edison Twice To Keep Perfect Mark

Central's well-coached football juniors last night at the stadium continued their record of no losses, no deadlock, and no scores against them. The reserve squad in the opening game annexed a scrappy 25-to-13 win and in the varsity contest Central's power proved itself to be a 25 to 0 victory. Nearly 1,000 saw the games.

Central scored early in the first quarter of the varsity engagement after carrying from their own 35. They got to the one yard line only to have a fumble recovered by Edison center Bouse. Attempting to run the ball out quarterback Brown was stopped in the pass and rode the 40 yards giving a set point lead.

Hynes Scores

Receiving Brown's place-kick on their own 40, Central on the next play sent left half Hynes through the right center of the line. They provided for some brilliant interference, and some brilliant ball carrying. Hynes was stopped with but one additional to shoot and accomplished the feat perfectly, making the decision 16 yards for the score. Jacobson's try for the point was stopped short of the goal posts.

In the second quarter Edison got as deep as the Central 30 and Central was only two yards from a score as the half ended.

After receiving the kickoff Edison was forced to punt, giving to Spring, to the 38 on a 15 yard roughing to the Edison 47. Hynes smashed over the center and Jacobson made the point.

In the fourth quarter Central gained the ball on the Edison 47 and a piercing penalty put them back on their own 48, making a first and 25. Spence got two to the Edison 49. Hynes went to the 41. Spence returned to the 34 and a first down. A passing combination of quarterback Brown and Spence to Sherman was completed, the first pass being good to the 15 and the second resulting in the score. Spence made the point. Browning received the kickoff to the own 45 and the game ended as he was stopped.

Score in 3 Plays

In three plays, consisting the entire first quarter reserves and second against the varsity, Russell received the kickoff on his own 41 going to the Edison 47 before being stopped. Russell got to the 18 and Williams running the left side of the line became the first reserve player in the junior ranks to have his name mentioned during the season. Jacobson's try for point was stopped by the linemen of touchdown scorers. Kusnir scored the point.

In the second quarter Edison got past the mid way stripe to the Central 46, the ball ending with Central on their own 35.

Russell, scored for Central in the third quarter, capping a drive from the Edison 45 with a 27 yard dash around left end. Kusnir was unable to gain the necessary two yards.

Central once again threatened in the fourth quarter. Kusnir attempted a pass from the Edison 21 which was intercepted on the 1 by Geisler and run to the 25. The game ended with Edison in possession at that point.

52 PRO CAGE TEAMS UNITE IN ASSOCIATION

First Move Made To Form Big "Farm System."

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—Fifty-two professional basketball teams from coast to coast, agreeing to work in unison, have become members of a national association in the first move towards a gigantic farm system for the game's major leagues

The formation of the National Association of Professional Basketball Leagues" was completed yesterday, Conspicuous by its absence in the new organization was the powerful new Basketball Association of America, sponsored by the Arena Managers' association with members in New York Boston Providence, Philadelphia Indianapolis Washington Pittsburgh, St Louis Cleveland Detroit, Toronto and Chicago

The formation of the 52-team association consummated by an executive board of six members from the National and American basketball leagues and affiliated loops was considered the first big step in establishing pro basketball on a big business basis rivalling pro footall It was accomplished mainly through the efforts of Ward (Piggy) Lambert new $10 000 per year commissioner of the National Basketball league, No 1 rival of the Arena managers' circuit

Ohio School Boy Football Race Called Topsy-Turvy

By DON STILL
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, O Oct 22—This'll give you an idea just what they mean when they call this 'a topsy-turvy' football season

Going into the weekend's scholastic grid-con wars, Fairview high school of Cuyahoga county hadn't even scored a touchdown this year

Fairview's opponent Wellington of Lorain county on the other hand, was unbeaten and untied

When the smoke of battle lifted, the score stood Fairview 18, Wellington 18—a stand-off

And that's not an isolated case either Want another' Franklin high of Warren county lost its first five games Its weekend meeting with the unbeaten Osborn of Greene county was expected to be a breeze for the Osborn fivers, another victory in their undefeated march toward the little Six conference crown

The score' Franklin 20, Osborn 19

Other Deadlocks

Then Fairview-Wellington tie wasn't the only startling deadlock along Lake Erie's banks over the weekend either Once - beaten Cleveland Holy Name held the high-flying Cathedral Latin Lions to a 0-0 deadlock, dumping Latin from unchallenged leadership in the race for Ohio's mythical schoolboy grid championship. It was this same Holy Name outfit that handed Latin its last defeat—a 7-6 triumph three years ago

Another tie hurt the title aspirations of two other elevens—Mansfield and Massillon Their 12-12 struggle halted Mansfield's five game victory streak and left Massillon with a defeat and a tie in its record Steubenville Central's sheet was marred, too, by a 6-6 tie with Werton, W. Va., Central scoring a final-second touchdown to emerge even

Contender Comes Through

Another top title contender Campbell Memorial, came over the sixth hurdle with colors flying Memorial, unbeaten since 1944 and playing one of the toughest schedules in the state, thumped Cleveland West Tech 28-7, adding the Clevelanders to a list of victims that includes Warren, Youngstown Ursuline and Chaney, Farrell, Pa, and Steubenville.

Memorial still has games booked with Niles Youngstown East, Struthers and Steubenville Central, and if they can survive these tests should be in a fair position to lay claim to the title

Lima Central, too, strengthened its post on by downing another five-time winner, Middleton, 7 to 0, and eliminating the Middies from the picture

Other aspirants with clean slates include Youngstown Woodrow Wilson which clipped East Liverpool 20-7, Cincinnati St. Xavier which trounced Bellevue, Ky, 33-0; Cincy Purcell whose victory string ran to 25 with a 34-0 rout of Campbell county, Lockland with a 14-game streak including their 32-0 trimming of Norwood, Dayton Chaminade which outclassed Lancaster B.I.S. 48-0; Upper Arlington, a 40-0 winner over Columbus Academy; Grandview, 20-6 over Delaware, Columbiana, 27-0 over Boardman, and East Palestine, 33-6 over Minerva

Ex-Ohio Officer Denies Lausche "Brandy" Deal

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Oct 22 — A former official of the state liquor control department declared today that Gov Lausche "deliberately told an untruth" in describing a transaction for brandy

The governor asserted at Van Wert last night the liquor department illegally changed a contract for Victoria brandy from $35 a case to $42 20 He said the increase cost the state $496 000 and intimated the circumstances were questionable

Thomas J Craig who was administrative assistant in the liquor department during a Republican administration in which the transaction took place, said in a letter to newspapers that Governor Lausche knew the vendor who sold the brandy to the state never received one cent more profit notwithstanding the increase of $7 20 a case"

The price was increased $7 20 a case Craig reported to cover a new federal floor tax of that amount

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

KATIE dashed to her room and, on reaching the top of the stairs, pulled the door open, with a loud "Ma, I get me to done relief that resounded through the house.

"Praise the Lord and pass the butter, some good enough," I said with an appreciative and appreciative look at the tables in her kitchen.

"Oh! sure nuf," she said with elaborate carelessness — I knew how much was her pride in her culinary prowess. "Miss Underwood, she say your father phone her from New York, say fourteen peoples coming some time tonight must have supper all ready for dem.

"Me, I tell her thirteen ain no lucky, but she shoom talk, and she say dey not all sit down to table together. She say five are men who got to shoot back to city, P.D.Q.

"Did she say that, Katie?" I asked, struggling with my emotions. But she was unabashed.

"Yes," she said crisply. "But she mean dat, and I say eat for her, save her trouble.

Everything Ready

"So me, I got table set in breakfast room for five, and I got roast all ready except frying eggs—nice fresh tomato juice, good hot soup and fried ham mit eggs and hot rolls and coffee. Den for dessert I got me nice cherry pie from our own cherries. Maybe dey like dat, No?" She gave me a sly upward glance.

"You make me hungry, just talking about the things," I told her, smiling. "I'm sure the guests will like them, and I hate to think what the boys will do to your food when they come to the table."

"Dey all hollow," she said, her invariable comment when the Gargantuan appetites of our young lads are mentioned. "But me, I feex enuff for tree sets of boys. Dey not go hoongry ven dey coom down. Now, how many places shall I set in dining room? Misses Underwood she not know, but she is she und Miss Marion, und Meester Underwood all ready to eat; every time you folks are. Und Meester Underwood he sniff my cherry pie und he say 'Katie and you don't save vun whole vun for me all by myself, I wring your neck.'

"You would better save him one, then," I said absently, trying to arrange the supper table mentally.

"You will have to take a tray to Mr. Brixton in my father's suite," I began. "Mrs. Bickett will tell you what he can have. And you will have to send a tray down with the boys to the secret room for a man who will stay down there with Major Grantland, and Mr. Lee Crow for a few days. And you must not speak of that man, remember. Nobody but our own family and the Underwoods know that he is here. Above all the Brixtons must not know."

"Me, I no tell nobody nuddings," Katie said stoutly, and I remembered Ducky's parodied quotation: "Katie's deeper than any well and safer than any church."

"Und I no like vum hair in dose Brixton vimmen's heads," she went on. "Ronald, he goot keed und his old man not so bad, but dot Carolyn und her mudder—

Own Words

I opened my mouth to reprove her, an closed it again with a feeling of guilt. She simply was putting into words my own feeling concerning the troublesome mother and daughter.

"You may lay places for twelve in the dining room," I said. "But two or three of them will not eat at the same time.

"Here are the people who will come down to supper in the dining room," I said. "Mrs. Brixton and Miss Carolyn; Mr. and Mrs. Underwood and Miss Marion, Dr. Twitchell and Mrs. Bickett, my father, the two boys, Mr. K. and myself. But fix your trays up first."
